NATIONAL CONSTITUTION.

Preamble.

Whereas, In the Providence of God, Victory crowned the efforts of the forces engaged in establishing and maintaining, against foreign foes, the principles contended for by the North American Colonies, and, later, by the United States of America in the conflicts known as

The War of the Revolution;
The War with Tripoli;
The War of 1812;
The Mexican War; and
The War with Spain, 1898; and

Whereas, The Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States has been instituted and organized in the States of New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut, by the institution of the New York Commandery, on the 27th day of December, 1894; the Pennsylvania Commandery, on the 29th day of April, 1895; and the Connecticut Commandery, on the 13th day of February, 1896; and

WHEREAS, Pursuant to the original Institution of the Order, the MILITARY ORDER OF FOREIGN WARS OF THE UNITED STATES—NATIONAL COMMANDERY has, by the officers of the said several State Commanderies in meeting duly assembled, been instituted to honor and perpetuate the names of brave and loyal men; to keep in mind the memory of their martial deeds and the victories which they helped to gain; to strengthen the ties of fellowship among the Companions of the Order; to foster the cultivation of Military and Naval Science; and to aid in maintaining National Honor, Union and Independence;

NOW, THEREFORE, To the end that suitable provision may be made for the perpetuation and government of the MILITARY ORDER OF FOREIGN WARS OF THE UNITED STATES as a NATIONAL ORDER, with jurisdiction throughout the United States of America, this NATIONAL CONSTITUTION of the Order is hereby adopted, established, ratified and confirmed:

ARTICLE I.

Provided, That such Propositus remained always loyal to his cause and was either killed or died in service or was honorably discharged therefrom; and

Provided, That when the claim to eligibility is based upon the service of an ancestor as a "Naval" or "Marine" officer, it must be satisfactorily shown that such service was regularly performed in the Continental Navy or in the Navy of one of the thirteen original Colonies, or of Vermont, or of one of the States, or of the United States or on an armed vessel, other than a merchant ship, which sailed under letters of marque and reprisal, and that such ancestor was duly enrolled in the ship's company as a commissioned officer.

Section 4. Such service must be satisfactorily shown to have been performed in one of the following wars:

THE WAR OF THE REVOLUTION, between the 19th day of April, 1775, and the 19th day of April, 1783;

Section 6. HONORARY COMPANIONSHIP — The President of the United States; ex-Presidents of the United States; General Officers of the Army of the United States, not below the rank of Major-General; Flag Officers of the Navy of the United States, not below the rank of Rear-Admiral; shall alone be eligible to Honorary Companionship in this Order, and when admitted shall be known as "Honorary Companions."

Section 7. No amendment of this Article nor of any Section thereof shall be in any way effectual unless notice thereof shall have been given, in writing, signed by the proposer thereof, at a regular or special meeting of the National Commandery next previous to that at which such amendment shall be adopted, nor unless the same shall have received, before its adoption, the consents, in writing, of three-fourths of all the Veteran and Hereditary Companions of the Order in good standing, and shall have been adopted at a regular or special meeting of the National Commandery, by a two-thirds vote of all the General Officers and Delegates present, after such written consents shall have been filed with the Secretary-General.

4—Sole power to pass finally upon all questions of eligibility to Companionship in the Order referred to it by the Registrar-General or otherwise; to require additional proofs of eligibility to be supplied; to suspend or drop from the roll any Companion whose proofs of eligibility shall be found defective and who shall fail, after notice, to supply such additional proofs; and the acts of the National Commandery hereunder shall be enforced without delay by the State Commandery affected thereby.

The National Council shall elect to Companionship in the Order the Charter Companions of each new State Commandery, which Companionship shall be transferred to such State Commandery ipso facto with the grant of its Charter. Such Charter Companions shall pay no initiation or other fee to the National Commandery but shall pay to the State Commandery such fees as may be fixed by the By-Laws thereof. The National Council shall report all its acts and proceedings to the National Commandery at each regular meeting thereof and oftener if required so to do by the National Commandery. ARTICLE IX.

STATE COMMANDERIES.

Each State Commandery shall, subject to the provisions of this Constitution, have jurisdiction within the territory of its State and power to manage its own affairs; it shall have power to admit Companions of the Order and to judge of the eligibility of applicants for admission subject to the supervision of the National Commandery as hereinbefore set forth, and sole power to pass upon the other qualifications of such applicants; it shall have the power to expel or suspend any Companion upon its roll; and it shall have the power to adopt such Constitution and By-Laws, not inconsistent with this Constitution, as may be best for its government.

No question involving any religious matter or party politics shall ever be discussed at any meeting of the National Commandery, National Council, or of any State Commandery.

The Constitution of every State Commandery, shall contain in full and without change, Article III. of this Constitution.

No State Commandery shall elect to Companionship, Companions of or persons resident within the territory of another State Commandery, except upon written consent, given in advance by the Council of the latter Commandery; but Companions changing residence from one State to another, or coming within the jurisdiction of a new State Commandery, may, at their option, retain Companionship in the State Commandery in which they were originally admitted. A member of any State Commandery may be admitted to Companionship by action of the Council of another State Commandery within the bounds of which he is resident, upon satisfactory proof of his Companionship in good standing in the Commandery from which he comes, and subject to the rules and regulations of the Commandery which he enters. No Companion shall vote except in the Commandery of the State in which he is a resident. An initiation fee shall not be twice required.

Should a life Companion be thus transferred, he shall be at no charges; but should he desire to hold his Companionship in both State Commanderies, he may elect in which of the same he shall be a life Companion, and shall then pay annual dues, or become a life Companion of the other.

No State Commandery shall admit to Companionship any person unless he make application in writing and in duplicate upon an official blank of such State Commandery which shall have been approved as to form by the National Council.

Every such application shall be accompanied by written or printed proofs of eligibility and shall contain a declaration, subscribed by the applicant declaring upon honor that he will use his best efforts to promote the objects and purposes of the Order, and that he will observe this Constitution, and that he will support the Constitution of the United States.

No person who may be enrolled as a Companion in any State Commandery shall be permitted to continue in Companionship therein where his proofs of eligibility shall be found to be defective, but upon failure to supply additional proofs, after notice, shall be dropped from the roll.

It shall be the duty of the Secretary of every State Commandery to forward, upon the admission of each Companion, to the Registrar-General, a duplicate of the original application of such Companion and of all supplemental applications when filed.

Act of Congress

RELATING TO THE INSIGNIA OF MILITARY SOCIETIES, WITH DECISIONS OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR THEREON.

JOINT RESOLUTION granting permission to officers and enlisted men of the Army and Navy of the United States to wear the badges adopted by Military Societies of men who served in the War of the Revolution, the War of Eighteen Hundred and Twelve, the Mexican War, and the War of the Rebellion.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the distinctive badges adopted by Military Societies of men who served in the Armies and Navies of the United States in the War of the Revolution, the War of Eighteen Hundred and Twelve, the Mexican War, and the War of the Rebellion, respectively, may be worn upon all occasions of ceremony* by officers and enlisted men of the Army and Navy of the United States who are members of said organizations in their own right.

Approved, September 25, 1890.

Decision of Acting Secretary of War, April 25, 1891.

Officers of the Army who are members by inheritance of any of the Societies referred to in the act of September 25, 1890, published in General Orders, No. 133, of November 18, 1890, from this office, are entitled to wear the badges adopted by such societies on occasions of ceremony.* (Circular No. 4, Head Qrs. of the Army, A. G. O., Washington, May 9, 1891.)

(Extract.)

* * * * * * *

*In compliance with the above Joint Resolution of Congress, * * the phrase "occasions of ceremony," in the resolution, will include all musters, reviews, inspections, parades and other occasions on which officers and men are required to appear in full-dress uniform.

The badges are to be worn on the left breast of the coat, the tops of the ribbons forming a horizontal line, the outer end of which shall be from two to four inches (according to the height of the wearer), below the upper line of the shoulder.

The ribbons are to be suspended from a bar of metal passed through their upper ends and attached to the coat. (General Orders, No. 133, Head Qrs. of the Army, A. G. O., Washington, November 18, 1890.)

Military Order of Foreign Wars

OF THE

UNITED STATES.

As supplemental to the directions of Article 12 of the constitution, the National Council respectfully recommends, for the sake of uniformity, the following for the guidance of Companions of the Order throughout the United States.

1. The rosette should be worn in the left lapel of the coat, but never in the overcoat. Where Companions belong to several orders or societies having rosettes, choice should be made of one rosette; more than one should never be worn at a given time. It is proper to wear rosettes with ordinary house or street dress. No rosette of any order or society should ever be worn at the same time with insignia.

2. Companions of the Order may wear the insignia on the left breast as prescribed in the Constitution. But it is recommended that when the insignia of this Order is used together with the insignia of other orders or societies, the regulations of the United States Government for army officers be understood as applicable to civilians also, as follows: "The badges are to be worn on the left breast of the coat, the tops of the ribbons forming a horizontal line, the outer end of which shall be from two to four inches (according to the height of the wearer) below the upper line of the shoulder." It may be added for information, that the government regulations further provide that "the ribbons be suspended from a bar of metal passed through their upper ends, and attached to the coat." Such bars of proper pattern can be procured by individual application to the Bailey, Banks & Biddle Co., Chestnut and 12th Streets, Philadelphia.

3. Companions who are or have been National or State officers, or who are Veteran Companions, entitled under the Constitution to wear the insignia suspended from a ribbon around the neck, are recommended, for the dignity of the Order, to so wear it. But this ribbon should be used only with a dress suit or dress uniform. In the case of a dress suit, the insignia should be drawn up to within an inch of the tie. In the case of a uniform it should hang close to the opening of the military collar.

4. The National Council respectfully points out that the prestige and influence of the Order much depends upon the enthusiastic loyalty of the Companions everywhere to those great principles which look for origin to American foreign wars. In the multiplication of patriotic societies representing other periods and having different aims from those for which we stand, it is deemed peculiarly important that every Companion should possess, and should use on all suitable occasions the emblems and insignia of this Order. It is hoped that Companions who may not have procured insignia already, will do so. It is desirable that care be exercised and effort made by all members to see to it, that in whatever makes for public recognition, this Order shall stand second to none.

By order of the National Council.

JAMES H. MORGAN,
Secretary-General.
